

SHOW PREVIEW

The Dubai Airshow returns in 2017 with a number of new features to complement the existing show format; including the UAV Summit, Space Pavilion, Cargo Zone and Airport Solutions in addition to returning features GATE - Gulf Aviation Training Event and Futures Day. The show will once again welcome visitors, exhibitors and delegations in their thousands to Dubai – the world’s global aerospace hub.

NEW FEATURES

AIRPORT SOLUTIONS DUBAI 2017

Covering the full spectrum of the industry, Airport Solutions will encompass a dedicated exhibition area along with a high level conference. This event will be of particular interest to civil aviation authorities, regulators, airport operators and owners.

SPACE PAVILION DUBAI AIRSHOW 2017

Space exploration is a national priority for the UAE and this new feature at the Dubai Airshow has been developed to support the government’s strategic objectives of building the region’s space sector. In addition to the exhibition area the Space Pavilion will host a two-day forum.

UAV SUMMIT DUBAI AIRSHOW 2017

The UAV market in the Middle East is growing rapidly - both in terms of the number of UAVs operating and also the increasing investment in manufacturing. The UAV Summit at the Dubai Airshow will feature conference sessions with industry leading experts, flying displays & demo area as well as the UAV exhibition zone.

CARGO ZONE DUBAI AIRSHOW 2017

The Cargo Zone will bring suppliers from across the air cargo supply chain together in one location to discuss trends, challenges and the future of the industry. Airlines, airport authorities, freight forwarders and expediting companies along with the vendors will attend this focussed exhibition area and one-day conference.

“The Dubai Airshow has become one of the pre-eminent shows in the world. It’s a show that generates excitement and is still going to bring customers – it’s the one place in the world where the magic can happen. We have completely surpassed our business objectives here.”

Steve Suttles, VP Middle East and Africa,
Bell Helicopters

“The Middle East is a very critical market for Boeing. It really is the venue where we can get everyone together at the same time. The show has been very busy in terms of delegations and high level visitors.”

Charlie Miller, VP of International Communications, Boeing

INDUSTRY BREAKDOWN

"The Dubai Airshow is the gem of the world as far as airshows are concerned. We hadn't expected as much interest as we have received, and we signed a memorandum of understanding at the show. There is absolutely no doubt that the Dubai Airshow is on our calendar for the future."

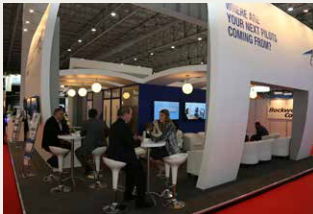

Peter Coker,
CEO & Managing Director, Martin Aircraft

EXHIBITING OPTIONS

INDOOR

The Dubai Airshow venue has been designed with our exhibitors and visitors in mind. All the indoor exhibits are located in our extensive exhibition hall which leads directly to the static display and chalet line providing a central meeting point for show attendees.
